The Probable Occupation of Bulgaria by Russia to Be Resisted by Austria, Turkey, Roumania, Bulgaria and Servia— M. De Giers Anxious for Another Interview With Bismarck-Programme of the Irish Party-The International Sculling Match-Beach and Teemer Winners-Foreign News.

Special Cablegram to the Post-Dispatch

LONDON, August 31.—After careful inquiry I find that the almost universal opinion here is that Prince Alexander has not improved his the situation is that indicated by the Cologne Gazette, which following up the inspired article of the North German Gazette, which declares that Germany has to choose between Russian occupation of Bulgaria and a direct attempt by the Czar to force Alexander to ab-

The inference is that Russia, with Bismarck's assent, has chosen it, too. In England there is a great sentimental sympathy with Alexander, but nobody is of an opinion that favors OVATIONS TO ALEXANDER.

TIERNOVA, August 31 .- Prince Alexander's journey here from Sistova, was a series of flocked to the different points of the road in procession and greeted the Prince with joyous shouts of welcome. A large crowd left Tier nova to meet the Prince at a point five miles distant and escorted him into the town amid great enthusiasm. An address of welcome was presented on behalf of the populace and in reply Prince Alexander congratulated Tiernova upon having commenced the counter revolution in his favor. It is now said Prince Alexander will probably proceed to Phillipop-

Telegrams were passing between the legation and St. Petersburg during the whole of last night. Prince Alexander will arrive at Phillipopolis

BERLIN, August 31.-The correspondent of the Tagblatt at Franzensbad has had an interview with M. De Giers, in which the Russian Foreign Minister stated that he would return to St. Petersburg on September 3. He would go by way of Berlin and would have another conference in that city with Prince Bismarck. Nothing final had been decided with regard to Bulgaria in his recent interview with the German Chancellor, as it was not known then that Prince Alexander would return to Sofia. M. De Giers said he did not know what the Czar's present intentions were, but he was sure Russia would not occupy Bulgaria while that country was tranquil. Russia's position would be very delicate and critical should Prince Alexander insist upon the execution of the men who led the conspiracy against him. M. De Giers spoke in condemnation of Prince Alexander's course, and, alluding to England's action in the premises, said that she used everything that came within her reach as an instrument against Russia.

NEW YORK, August 31.—The London correspondent of the New York Times cabled last night as follows: "To-night I learn details of what the world is likely to learn, much to its excited interest, within a few days. Bismarck declined to commit himself, took the matter ad referandum, and shortened the interview almost abruptly. A great amount of telegraphing between Berlin, Vienna, London, Rome and Constantinople ensued, far more than the little Franzensbad office ever dreamed of before. Whether M. De Giers got an answer before his unexpectedly hasty departure is not known, but the result was that Prince Alexander was not restrained from going to Bulgaria. Mr. Lascelles, the British Consul-General, who was spending his vacation here, started post-haste for Sofia the same night to represent English interests in the trying time now at band. This is a hint that Sir William White, who ought never to have been removed from Constantinople, will go there next week as a temporary aid to the slow Sir Edward Thornton. Mr. Lascelles hastens, as does Prince Alexander, to forestall the fire-eater, Dolgoruki, who is reported to be on the way to Sofia. He will be received coolly, with strict courtesy, not affronted, not recognized; but there is a doubt whether he will really go to Sofia. Instead, secret information here is that he is likely to go to Athens and thence to Macedonia. It is known that has been going in great quantities through Greece to foment a rising in Macedonia, which is expected daily. I learn that it is believed to be certain that the pressure of Germany. Austria and England has gained Turkey over once more, and that the Porte will authorize Alexander as a tributary Prince to enter Macedonia, subdue it, and incorporate it as a part of his dominions held under the Porte, with the view of an eventual kingdom of Bulgaria. Against this plan is set the certainty that Russia will attempt to cocupy Bulgaria, when she will be resisted by Austria, Turkey, Roumania, Bulgaria and Servia. This will enable Germany to hold aloof, keep France in awe and satisfy the Kaiser, whose scruples have long delayed a collision between the Teuton and the Muscovite. My informant lays great stress upon the strength and sufficiency of these scruples, but believes that the Kaiser, in wrath at the piratical indignity offered to Prince Alexander, has consented to et the Austrians and Turks undertake the task of chastisement. In the short, heated, diplomatic work coming, England is believed to be ready to assume the lead, and it is felt far more probable than it was on Saturday that eventually she will take a hand in the fight, It is a delicate thing to predict such a vast collision. I would not dream of doing it on my own poor responsibility, but it is asserious fact that the most trusted men in the English foreign service believe to-night that was represented to Indon papers start for Bulgaria to-morrow.

The Nationalist case has been grossly misrepresented by Unionists' reports in the Times, which has not inserted replies sent it by the Nationalist Committee. Sexton has made exhaustive inquiries, confirming fully the Irish view of the matter. The Government has decided to abandon the idea of recouping Irish landlords out of the tax-payers' pockets. The policy is energetically opposed in private by Chamberlain, who virtually girects the Government from behind. The Irish policy will therefore take somewhat more of a popular line, the landlords being practically thrown CHICAGO, August 31 .- A Daily News special from Halifax, Nova Scotia, says: Reliable re-ports from Newfoundland are to the effect that ports from Newfoundland are to the effect that there are no fish north of St. Johns worth speaking of, and that fishing generally in the northern districts of the islands is next to a total failure. The people consequently are in a state of destitution unheard of before at this early season of the year, large numbers of them having abandoned the fishing as a hopeless failure. In White Bay, especially, and in certain parts of Green Bay, the fishing population is already seeking relief. The situation is an exceedingly gloomy one. Fishing on the French shore from Griquet is pretty good, but poor along the east coast, averaging from ten to fitteen quintals per man for hook and line and twenty-four for traps. Much destitution exists on the French shore.

New York, Angust 31.—A special to the Herald from St. Johns, N. F., says: Another tragedy of the Banks is reported, twelve victims this time probably losing their lives. The fishing schooner Meter, just arrived at Bay Bulls, from the Grand Banks, brings the sad news that, while fishing on the 18th inst., a sudden gale of wind sprang up. An impenetrable fog shut down on the seene and six dories, with twelve men on board were unable to reach the schooner. There is a bare chande that some of them may have been picked up, but the gale blew with such fury that it is thought the boats could not live long in the fearful sea that was running.

Owing to the bank's gaining the right to issue bills which had been disputed, and securing other valuable rights and privileges, this action on the part of the London Bank will undoubtedly help the continued investment of English capital here, as had the bank failed to secure the continued circulation of the bills, it would have probably wound up its affairs and withdrawn from the country.

THE FIRST FROSTS.

Winter's Approach Indicated-Cool Weather for To-Night.

The hand of time is already laid upon 1886 portions of the Northwest where the earth grew hoary with the first frosts of winter. So continued has the heat been that it is scarcely comprehensible that there is such a thing as frost in any part of the temperate zone. But the tell-tale bulletins of the Signal Service this morning had the word "frost" on the lines of Yankton and Bismarck, Dak, and Moorhead, Minn., at the latter place a temperature as low as 33 degrees being reported at 6 a. m. A special dispatch from Gen. Hazen said that frosts occurred in Dakota and Northern Minnesota last night, and that the moving eastward of the high barometer makes frosts in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michligan, Northern Illinois and Northern Iowa almost certain for to-night.

In this city the mercury fell still lower last night, the minimum being 61 deg. The official readings to-day were as follows: 2 a. m., 63 deg.; 6 a. m., 62 deg.; 10 a. m., 10 deg.; 2 a. m., 76 deg.; maximum, 76 deg. There is every indication of more cool, fine weather for this vicinity. noary with the first frosts of winter. So

To-DAY's dispatches contain a reference to the continued efforts of Russia to foment a rising in Macedonia by a plentiful distribution of money; and to a report that the Porte will authorize Prince ALEX-ANDER to enter and subdue Macedonia, and to incorporate it as a part of his dominions held under the Porte, with the view of finally making a kingdom of Bulgaria of formidable size and strength. These rumors suggest one way in which hostilities in the East may be precipitated.

It is rumored that Mr. ED BUTLER was the first man in St. Louis to find out that Mr. OVERALL would not seek the Congressional nomination in the Ninth District. It is suspected Mr. BUTLER unduly magnified the supposed crisis and marked his goose up too high.

THE surprise of Secretary BAYARD at recent sensational developments in the City of Mexico is very much like the surprise which must have overtaken Mr. P. T. his bearded woman was a man.

"I SHALL never vote the Republican ticket again, "says Mr. NEAL Dow. There is nothing surprising in such a statement from such a source; for the mere fact that a man is a Prohibitionist is no reason why he should not make steady progress in moral and spiritual development.

"SALOON rule in politics" is something that all parties will oppose; but this is not at all the issue that is raised in the Prohibition question, and the attempt to sharp practice. No matter whether a man is a Prohibitionist or not, no matter whether he drinks or abstains from liquor, he will oppose the saloon in politics unless he belongs to the vicious bummer element that swings to the skirts of every consid-

THE PRICKED BUBBLE.

The prompt and sensible action of Mr. OVERALL in declining to be sacrificed as a candidate for Congress in the Ninth District gives the lie to the noisy clamor of the gang who undertook to run him. The admission is exceptionally valuable because it pricks several bubbles that have been inflating themselves on the raseous exhalations of political corruption, and deluding the public with the pretence of being solid bodies. The little tin ward bosses who tried to take Mr. OVERALL under their arms and land him in Congress, who graciously volunteered to hand over wards and primaries to himfor a proper consideration-are now exposed as frauds and shams, magpies of politics strutting about in stolen plumage, political asses braying under the lions' skins. If Mr. GLOVER had no other claim to reelection he has earned it by dispelling, and we trust forever, the hoary delusion that St. Louis is controlled by men who would be hooted out of town if they should run to nominate such a man as ED BUTLER for any office, and yet Mr. BUTLER has long been held up by a current error that pot-house statesmen and corner heelers have told the citizens that there was no hope for any man in this ward if "GRIF PRATHER was agin him," BLONG." It is worth something to have learned this, and it is worth more to repeat the lesson, to renew it, to enforce it, to impress it on the public mind. It is merely the lesson that in this free country the power rests with the people, not with the bosses, and wherever the people assert themselves the bosses disappear.

What the Editors of the New York Journals

Are Saying This Morning. Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, August 31 .- The WORLD says:

'The latest dispatches from Mexico undertake to explain Mr. Envoy Sedgwick's hilar ity on scientific grounds. Before strangers became acclimated to the rarified air that prevalls 8,000 feet above the sea level, dinner parties with champagne attachments are dangerous things to toy with. The effects are sudder and are sometimes quite deleterious. Mexico's bon ton appear satisfied that Mr. Sedgwick committed no such glaring improprieties as were reported in the first dispatches to the Administration organ here, and to attest their confidence a number of glittering private entertainments by the aristoctracy will at once be given in his honor. Friends in this bear evidence to his scholarly habits and discretion, and scout the idea of his committing any great breach of social or official decorum. Is is to be hoped, for the credit of the country, our forest wealth, is of itself discouraging. It should be remembered, however, that during the last decade some progress has been made. The dissemination of what is recognized as scientific truth concerning the influence of forests upon the climate, the retention of moisture and the maintenance of equably flowing streams has been general. The census reports have drawn attention to the vanishing supply of our most useful woods, and given added value to timber lands and a stronger motive to maintain them in a productive condition. Examples of profitable sylviculture in New England and the West have been brought to notice as object lessons for encouragement and instruction. Some of our State colleges and experiment stations, notably those of lilinois, fowa and Ohio, are making a systematic study of economic tree plantins. A method of planting large tracts by contract has been developed which insures to land-owners a thrifty stand of established trees at the smallest possible risk and expense."

The men have been working at rates of wages varying from 20 to 37 cents per ton. The new rate made by the Consolidated Company will be 50 cents per ton for hard mined coal and an equalizing rate for that mined by machinery. A rumor to the effect that the miners were dissatisfied and had yesterday sent a committee to Mr. Crandall found expression in a morning paper. Mr. Crandall, who was seen by a Post-Disparch reporter this morning, says that no committee has waited upon the office and that there will be none. The miners are thoroughly astied with the new arrange ments and rates of pay. He says that the relations, notably those of Illinois, fows and Ohio, are making a systematic study of economic tree plantins. Ex-Gov. St. John, the chief apostle of the prohibition doctrine, even in Maine, emphatically declares that the enforcement of the prohibitory liquor law in that State by the Republicans is all moonshine and fool's gold. Replying to Mr. Blaine's assertion that the Republicans have placed Maine a quarter of a century ahead of the license States in all that pertains to the temperance question, the ex-Governor of Kansas says:

That is unfair; it is notorlous that many saloons are open in Portland, where under the Democratior rule not a saloon was open. Give the devil his due. We don't want any high resolution or boulcombe; we want good faith. I'd rather have two years of actual suppression of the liquor traffic than any jingling resolutions you can give me.

THE TIMES.

THE TIMES.

The Times asys: "Among the business world the substantial progress in the business world the increase in the internal revenue is one of the most significant. The aggregate receipts for July are now revised and published. They have a gain of more than 10 per cent over those of July, 1885, nearly two-thirds of which ited by Mr. SEGWICK's course in the City of Mexico, it cannot be contended that the Mexicans rejected him. The Secretary of State is entitled to all the consolation that lurks in this fact.

Ben Levi, who keeps a second-hand store on the Levee, was fined $10 by Judge Cady this morning for disturbing the peace of Mary mith, a regular patron of Judge Cady's Court. Mary got on one of her regular drunks last evening and took her accustomed promenade on the Levee Boulevard. As she passed Levi's place, she noticed Levi standing front of his store, and his once white shirt was not o er clean.

"Have you any white shirts?" she asked.
"Yes," was the reply.
"Then go in and put one on," said Mary, as she staggered against his show-case.
She claimed Levi struck her and knocked her down, but he said he merely showed her away and that she fell down. Her cries attracted a crowd, and Levi narrowly escaped lynching.

A LIFE FOR A MELON. An Iowa Farmer Murders a Young Man

Caught in His Melon Patch. DES Moines, Io., August 31.-Thomas Counilman, a farmer residing near Perry, has been annoyed by raids of boys and men upon his three-acre melon patch. Lately he hung a circle of lanterns around his patch and swore he would shoot the first person crossing the "dead line." Saturday night six young men Saturday night six young men line." Saturday night six young men raided the patch, and the old man came out with his gun. He claims they threw rocks at him, and thereupon he shot one of them, a young man named James Marsh Marsh threw up his hands and cried: "Don't kill me," but Councilman fired again, hitting him in the back, neck and shoulders. The wounded man died in fitteen minutes. Councilman was arrested.

London, August 31 .- Mr. Castanet was performing with Pezon's menagerie, at Puy, on Saturday night, when one of the lions suddenly seized him by the leg, dragging him down on his knee. Mr. Castanet struggled to rise, but, falling in the attempt, cried out: "I am done for this time." Horror was depicted on every face. The man's arm was next terribly mangled, and the lion was about to take the man's head in its mouth when, by a superhuman effort, he succeeded in freeing himself. Aithough severely hurt and snaken, his arm stripped of fesh to the bone, Mr. Castanet insisted on continuing his performance, but he fainted as soon as he left the cage. He is seriously wounded, and, aithough his life is now in no danger, he will need a thorough rest for some time.

THE MINORITY PARTY.

A PRELIMINARY VIEW OF THE REPUBLICAN BATTLE GROUND AT SEDALIA.

Delegates to the Convention Arriving Chairman Crawford of the State Committee Strongly in Favor of Submission -The Grund-Filley Contest-Probability That Filley Will Get the Cold Shoulder Sixth District Republican Convention.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. SEDALIA, Mo., August 31.—The Republican State Convention which meets here at noon tomorrow promises to be well attended. Prominent members of the party from all over the Fred W. Mott and Chairman W. H. Crawford

The Charge Against Anton Link—Correction of the State Committee are already on the grounds, together with some twenty-odd delegates who arrived here last night. Gen. Guitar is attracing a great deal of attention just at present, as the probable candidate of the Sixth District Republicans for Congress. of the Sixth District Republicans for Congress. He will also take an active part in the State Convention. From the conversation of delegates around the hotels this morning, it is evident that the only question of State importance which will be considered by the convention, will be the resolution on submission reported at the last meeting of the State Committee. Dr. Crawford and several other prominent Republicans have taken a stand in favor of submission and their views and opinions are certain to example of the state of the considerable influence with the great majority of the party. opinions are certain to ex-considerable influence with the great majority of the party.

Mr. James S. Beach, of St. Joseph, Filiey's old-time ally, expresses the hope that Crawford will not make a very strong fight for anything savoring of prohibition, but the doctor has assumed a position and he will find it a difficult matter to retreat. The split in the St. Louis delegation excites little comment among the country members, lew of whom have any personal interest in the matter, or are at all concerned as to the result. The members of the State Committee, however, are well posted on the relative standing and influence of the standing and the s to the result. The members of the state committee, however, are well posted on the relative standing and influence of GRUND AND FILLEY.

A majority of the committee appear to be antagonistic to Filley. It is safe to say that the great body of the delegates are unperplaced, and stand ready to do justice to both sides, and Mr. Filley's claims will receive all of the consideration to which they are entitled. The first brush between Grand and Filley will take place in the State Committee, which body will be cailed upon to decide which set of delegates are entitled to seats in the convention pending the temporary organization. Secretary Mott stated this morning that he would be asked for tickets by both delegates, and that he did not consider that he had any right to show preference so long as there was a contest, and for that reason he will refer this whole matter to the committee when the permanent organization of the convention is perfected. The Committee on Credentials will reture, and then will come the great final struggle for recognition by the Politinan and Grund delegations, upon the result of which hangs the vote of at least one of the requiar Republican City Committees of St. Louis. Judge Wm. Shirk, Chairman of the Local Reception Committee, said to the Post-Dispatch correspondent this morning, that the country conceded the Supreme Judge-ship Homination to e ther St. Louis or Kansas City; the other two places on the ticket will very likely got to the Hayseed district. Jockey Club. LOUISVILLE, Ky., Angust 31 .- The fall meeting of the Louisville Jockey Club commences on Monday, September 13, continuing six regular days. The programme embraces twenty-eight races, of which seven are stakes—the Blue Grass Filly Stakes, twenty en-tries; the Belle Meade, forty-five, and Sanford, twenty-four entries, for 2 year-olds; the St. Leger, sixty nine, and Great American Stallion Stakes, 113 entries, being for 3-year-olds, and the Turf Stake, twenty-two, and cash handicap, twenty-four entries, being for all ages.

The stables at Lexington and Nashville are moving already to Louisville where there are more than one hundred horses in training. The prospects are very flattering, the races and the Southern Exposition with Damrosch's orchestra making a double attraction. The stakes for 1888 closed with very large entries.

THE NEW YORK DEMOCRACY.

Chairman O'Brien Calls a Meeting of the State Committee.

NEW YORK, August 31 .- The World prints the following: Chairman O'Brien decided last night to issue a call for the meeting of the Democratic State Committee at Saratoga on September 11, or 14, when will be decided the the question whether that party will call a convention. Mr. O'Brien, sometime ago, had circulars issued to the members of the committee asking their opinion as to the advisability of calling a convention. He received replies from nearly all the members. The committee was prestly evenly divided on the subject, and it was decided that the only satisfactory way to settle the matter was to call a meeting of the committee. Those members who oppose the calling of a convention give as their reasons the unnecessary expense, the danger of committing a mistake on the labor question and fear that an indorsement of the National Administration will not be adopted. Another reason advanced is the necessity for reorganizing the stare Committee. Many persons believe that the smoke from the aqueduct delegation has involved Mr. O'Brien to an extent that will necessitate his retirement from the chairmanship of the committee. ago, had circulars issued to the members of

NEW YORK, August 31.- "Josephine" is a go, and no mistake. A packed house was the matter-of-course welcome awarded McCaull's new opera. Every seat was filled. Fortun ately the gentle winds gave the audience needed rest from the mugwumpy torridities of the day, but many people in the house recalled the story in the Bible about the mummy whose fan was in his haud. seum last evening at the performance of Sims and Pettit's "Harbor Lights," with which the forty-sixth regular dramatic season of the theatre was begun. In the second act, when Dora Vail, lured to the hall of 'Squire Morland at night, was seeking to escape, in the struggle the lamp on the table was upset and fell with a crash on the stage. The two actors took no tice of it in the earnestness of their impersonations, but the audience as they saw the flaming oil roll upon the carpet called out repeatedly. "put it out." Excitement ran high and actual danger was imminent when Miss Craigen rushed upon the stage from the wings and literally throwing herself upon the launp smothered the flames with her long cloak and extinguished every spark. It all happened in a minute but in that time Miss Craigen was seemingly in great danger. She, however, was uninjured. The cry of "Craigen Oraigen!" was then raised, but the plucky little lady refused to come to the front to receive the ovation which a generous audience wished to accord her.

Ellen Terry and the Picaninny.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch. New York, August 31 .- A little scene not on the bills interrupted the second act of Ned Harrigan's "Investigation," at the Park Theater, last night. In this act a colored christening is ushered in with a real live negro baby, and while its mother dandles it on her knees the song "Helio, Babby," is sung. Before the song commenced Harrigan stepped to the footlights and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, you will pardon my interrupting the performance. I will detain you but a moment. A few nights ago we were honored with the presence of the distinguished Henry Irving and Miss Ellen Terry. Miss Terry sat in the lower box a few feet from our little black picaninny. She saw the real live baby, and was very much interested in him. Before she sailed Miss Terry sent this locket to be presented to the little fellow." Ned Harrigan then presented the gift, which was an English sovereign modelled into a locket, and said, "I place it on his neck hoping, as the giver wished me to, that he has health and prosperity for many a year." The audience applauded Harrigan's oratoric effort, while the baby, whose name is Harry Hail, looked serone and took it all in as a matter of course, and the play went on. Theater, last night. MURDER WILL OUT.

The "Jennings Track" Mystery of Roche ter, N. Y., Cleared Up.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., August 31 .- In October 1880, Chris Berman was murdered with an ax at his home on Jennings street, in this city. The affair was a most mysterious one, no clew being obtainable at the time to the murderers. The tragedy was a horrible one and created no little excitement at the time. The police used all means to discover the perpetrators, but what was called "the mystery of the Jennings track" was never solved. Late last evening Mrs. Berman, wife of the murdered man, and Jacob Steinmiller, her brother-in-law, were arrested and locked up in jail on a charge of having committed the crime. A full confession of the murder is now in the hands of the police, made by the mother of Berman's wife, who is now on her death-bed. She is an old woman, and was a witness to the tragedy, which she alleges was committed by her daughter, aided by Steinmiller. For six years she has kept the secret, and now old and ready to die, she could not endure the thought of carrying it to her grave, and so told hirs. Mattle Reader, a neighbor, last Saturday. Mrs. Reader told the police and the arrests were made. The dying woman and Mrs. Berman were arrested in 1880, on charges of murder on suspicion, but no facts could be proved against them, and they were discharged. The alleged notive was the love of Steinmiller for the victim's wife. He is a seavenger and is worth from $10,000 to $15,000. no little excitement at the time. The police
